Introduction: About The NFT Skybar

The NFT Skybar is a cocktail bar accessible from the Nhow hotel, located in ONE, a tower completed in 2022 at Europaviertel, Frankfurt.¹ At an altitude of 185 metres, on the 47th floor, it offers a unique view onto the financial heart of Frankfurt and the Eurozone, top down. With a very contemporary interior, it almost feels like you have stranded inside a gaming universe, with fluorescent lights at the entrance, and lights across the length of the building that seem to resemble laser beams. Once inside, you are welcomed by a stage where live music is played. There is a dj boot with live music, mostly a mixture of fusion, techno and dance, which ties in well with the equally modern interior.

On the outside, there is a balcony offering a 360 degree view, with several pieces of modern art as can be seen below at various light intensities.

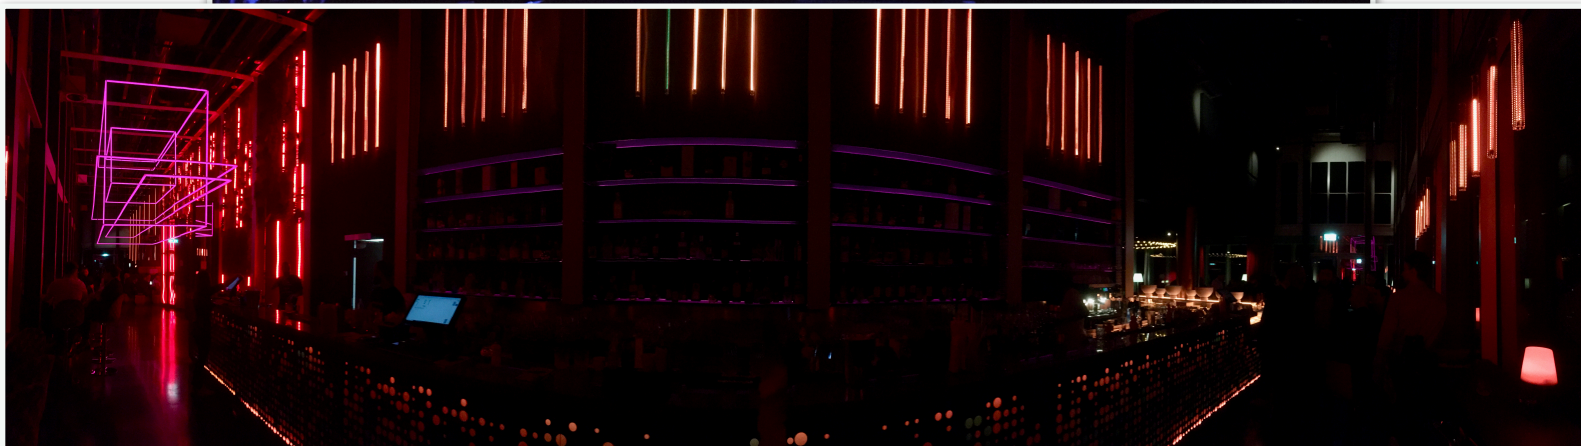

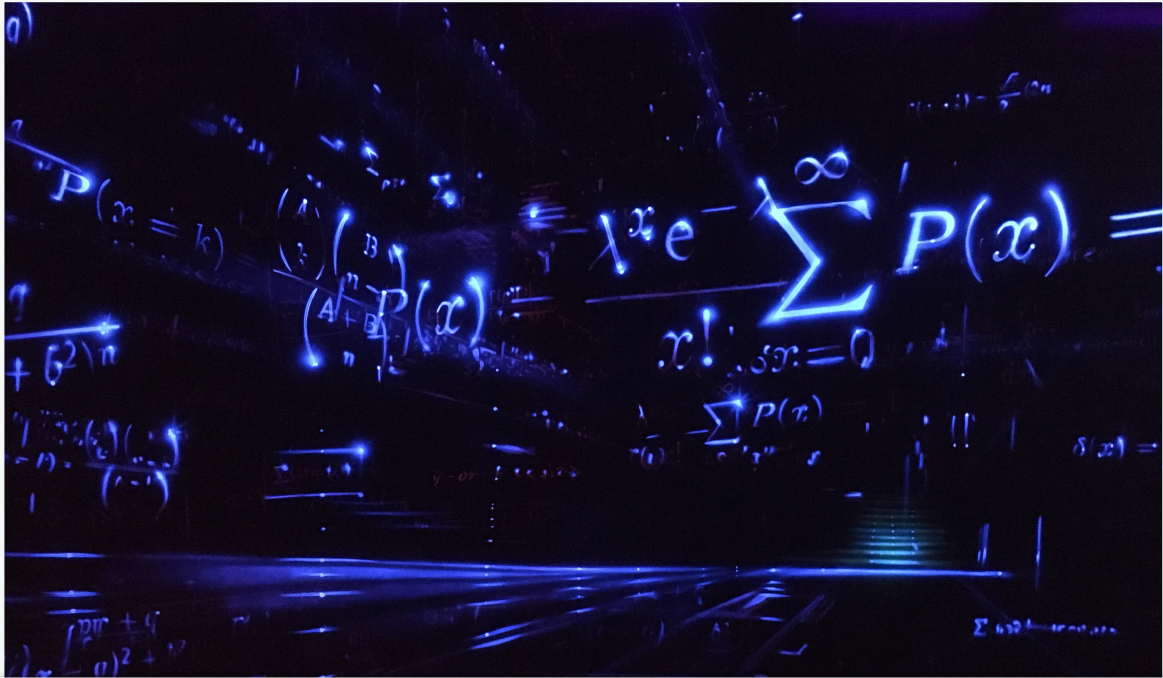

Back inside, you will find a lot of decoration based on financial themes, including FinTech topics such as Crypto Coins. And just as you thought it could not become more science-fiction like, please have a look at the lighting on next page ...

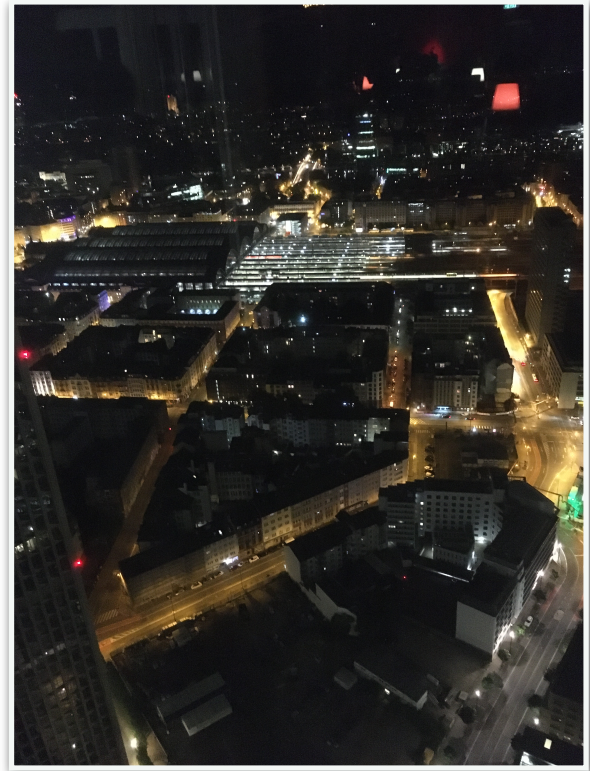

To get the full picture, let us have a panoramic view now as well as some other details ...

As far as the inside is concerned, there is no noise, only signal ;)...

And an outsider view does not look bad either, even in the dark and with some light reflection ...

On the left picture, you can catch a view of the MesseTurm, 257 metres high skyscraper which was finished in 1990.² The pyramid at the top is a nice symbol for planet finance ;). On the right you can find a downward view towards Frankfurt am Main Hbf.

On a final note

My impression of The NFT Skybar so far has been a wonderful one, and definitely a place I would recommend financials. And of course you need to check out this place at daylight, if I am to believe the owner :)!
